"GYP THE BLOOD" AND "LEFTY LOUIE" CAUGHT

Wives Innocently Lead Detectives to Hiding Place in Brooklyn of Alleged Slayers of Gambler Rosenthal-They Surrender Without a Fight When Trapped.

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 14.—"Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" the missing gunmen indicted as two of the actual slayers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler were found by the police tonight living with their wives in a flat in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn.

They were arrested by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty and a squad of detectives who brought them to polic headquarters and locked them up. They will be arraigned Monday

The two men had been occupying the flat since August 15, and were there alone until last Tuesday when they were joined by their wives, through whom clews to their whereabouts were obtained by the police.

The four were sitting at tea when Deputy Commissioner Dougherty and his men burst open the door of their apartment and with revolvers drawn ordered them to hold up their hands.

Neither of the men made any show of resistance.

"Drop your guns, you've got us," said Gyp, calmly.

"Give us a little time to get dressed, will you," said Lefty, with equal composure.

Scarcely another remark was made to the police by either man until they were examined at headquarters later by Assistant District Attorney Moss acting for District Attorney Whitman who has gone to Hot Springs to take testimony of persons who talked to Sam Schepps a witness in te case.

The women, however, made a scene, throwing their arms around their husband's necks and shedding copious tears. They had to be torn away from the men before the police could get their prisoners out of the apartment. The women were later brought to headquarters.

With the arrest of Gyp and Lefty, whose real names are Harry Horowitz and Louis Rosensweiz all of the seven men accused of the murder of Rosenthal of which Polige Lieutenant Charles Becker is the alleged instigator, are now in custody.

The capture of the two men came as a result of what is regarded in police circles here as the best detective work in the history of the department. It was the fruit of unbroken surveillance of the wives.

This surveillance was maintained by sixty detectives working in relays who kept Deputy Commissioner Dougherty constantly in touch with what they did and where they went

The final clew came as the result of piecing together several conversations overheard by detectives and reported to the commissioner at different times.

The first conversation was that they "are not lonesome because they can see a moving picture from their back windows."

Another conversation gave the information that there was a laundry in the house where the missing men lived, which was named either New Brighton, the Bright or the Brighton Hand Laundry.

A third conversation supplied the fact that the neighborhood was "full of Swedes and Germans." It then became Commissioner Dougherty's task to discover somewhere a hand laundry, in proximity to a moving picture show, in a vicinity inhabited by foreigners of the nationalities named

The possible name of the laundry was obtained less than two days ago and the commissioner discovered that there were a half dozen laundries of similar name in New York city and many more in other cities, for the commissioner did not assume that the gun men were necessarily located in New York

"When they found a laundry with a moving picture show close by, there were no Swedes or Germans in the neighborhood," said Mr. Dougherty tonight, "when we found a laundry with the foreigners in the neighborhood, there was no moving picture show One of our laundry clews took us to New Haven and we were just about to investigate another in Pittsburg"

Early today Detective Meyer and Cassasso discovered in Brooklyn the "New Brighton Hand Laundry" which perfectly fitted all requirements They sat themselves to watch the apartments situated above the laundry and late in the afternoon were rewarded by seeing the wife of Gyp the Blood leaving the building and doing an errand at a store

Both wives had been missing since Tuesday, when they cleverly evaded detectives by jumping into a waiting automobile after leaving an "L" train on which they were riding in the direction of Harlem.

The detective force therefore felt certain they were with their husbands The women had on several other occasions eluded surveillance by the use of automobiles but previously had always returned to their homes in New York

The arrest tonight followed as soon as the detectives could collect reinforcements

Commissioner Dougherty said tonight that Gyp and Lefty had fled immediately after the murder to Parkersville, New York, a summer resort in the Catskill mountains and remained there over a week. His men had traced them back to New York by their baggage checks but had lost them at the Hoboken terminal Where they were between July 26, the date of their arrival, and August 15, the commissioner has not definitely determined.

AEROPLANES IN A COLLISION

ONE AVIATOR KILLED AND ANOTHER SERIOUSLY HURT ON CHICAGO AVIATION FIELD

TWO AVIATORS IN RACE

One Attempted to Pass Beneath Other When Planes Crashed Together

By Associated Press

Chicago, Sept. 14—Aviator Howard W Gill of Baltimore was fatally hurt on the Cicero aviation field tonight, dying later, while George Mestach of France whose monoplane had collided with Bill's biplane when they were participating in a race, seventy-five feet in the air, was injured as the two men and their machines fell to the earth in the darkness.

Mestach soon revived and his condition was found to be not serious.

Gill was rushed to a hospital. After recovering consciousness Mestach said

"I was going at top speed in my monoplane in an effort to win the race. Looking behind I saw Gill in his biplane turning around piling and rapidly approaching me a few feet below I jerked my elevator thinking to give him ample space to clear beneath I was unable to get a good view of just what was happening but it seems that Gill driving straight ahead hit my understructure. This had the effect of bouncing me and plunging me to the ground. For a moment I was unconscious. When I came to I saw Gill lying in the wreckage of his car not fifty feet away"

Gill was in a Wright biplane and Mestach in a Borel monoplane. The accident occurred just at darkness at the end of a day of spectacular flight Five thousand people were witnesses but owing to the darkness and distance few of the spectators could tell just how the accident occurred.

LEADER OF ALLEN GANG ARRESTED

SIDNA ALLEN AND WESLEY EDWARDS TAKEN INTO CUSTDOY AT DES MOINES

LOVE LEADS TO UNDOING

Detectives Followed Girl Whom Edwards was to Have Married last Night From N. C.

By Associated Press

Des Moines, Ia., Sept 14—Sidna Allen, leader of the Allen clan which shot up the Carroll county court house at Hillsville, Virginia, March 14, killing Judge Massie and others, and his nephew, Wesley Edwards, tonight are manacled in cells at the city jail as a result of love affairs, which led detectives to them.

Both have announced their willingness to return to Virginia with requisition.

Edwards, for the love of whom Miss Maud Iroler of Mount Arry, North Carolina had innocently led detectives to Des Moines, was captured tonight as he was returning to his boarding house after having worked all day with a paving gang.

Just as he boarded a street car detectives and policemen surrounded it. Edwards was trying to escape by crawling through the front end of the car when the officers caught him.

The arrest of Sidna Allen was effected earlier in the day. A visit by Edwards to Miss Iroler about a month ago and the accidental loss of a letter put the detectives on the trail. The fugitives had been here since April 28, Allen under the name of Tom Fayre, working as a carpenter and Edwards under the name of Joe Jackson, being employed with a city paving gang.

Allen was arrested at the home of John Cameron at Eleventh and Locust streets, where he and his nephew had been rooming. The arrest was made by Detectives Baldwin, Lucas and Lundy of Roanoke, Virginia.

The arrest was made a few minutes after Miss Iroler stepped into the Cameron home to meet Edwards, whom she was to wed tonight, according to an arrangement made when he visited her in North Carolina.

Detective Lucas was at her heels Allen was in an upper room When informed that visitors wanted to see him he came downstairs. As he did so Detective Lucas covered him with a revolver and asked him to surrender. Allen hesitated then threw up his hands saying, as he did so, "I guess I'm your man."

He was hand cuffed and placed under a guard of city detectives, while Detective Baldwin and Chief Jennie of the local department went in search of Edwards who was said to be at work in the eastern part of the city. Apparently Edwards heard that his uncle had been captured because he could not be found until night.

Miss Iroler arrived in Des Moines this morning unaware that on her train were detectives who wanted her sweetheart She went straight to the Cameron home having previously been provided with the address and the officers followed. Although surprised, she took the arrest of Allen and the capture of Edwards with little or no concern

"Wesley was down home a month ago," she said, "we were to be married. He gave me the money to come to this city and this address I had no idea that anyone was following me. I loved Wesley Edwards. He was always kind to me. I did not know that Sidna Allen was here. It is awful, but I can't help it."

Sidna Allen in his cell tonight talked freely of the events of the last few months, but declined to say much concerning his movements immediately after the tragedy. He and Edwards remained in the mountain country of Virginia and North Carolina for about a month and then got over into Kentucky, going to Louisville, where they spent several days. Their next stop was St. Louis, where they spent a week

They had sufficient money for their needs and traveled as first class passengers

"I don't know why we came to Des Moines," said Allen, "unless it was that I thought we would be safer here Several years ago I was in the Klondike and I figured that the officers would think I had gone back there So we came to Des Moines and I got work as a carpenter and expected to remain here until it was safe back home I would have given myself up long ago if I had thought we could get a square deal, but see what they have done to Floyd, my brother, and to Claude"

Allen declared that the courthouse tragedy was the fault of the officers who he said, began the shooting.

WRONGED HUSBAND KILLS DESPOILER OF HIS HOME

Tragedy is Second That Resulted From Elopement-Boyce Shot With Automatic Shot Gun in Front of Church-Sneed Surrenders at Jail

Special to The Times.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 14.—Al G. Boyce Jr., one of the most conspicuous figures in the Boyce-Sneed domestic drama which demanded national attention last year, was shot and instantly killed here this afternoon, and J. B. Sneed, with whose wife young Boyce eloped almost a year ago surrendered, following the shooting.

The tragedy was enacted within a block of the business district of the city and was followed by wild excitement and the flocking of hundreds to the scene. Full details of the affair were not obtainable owing to the unexpectedness of the affair and the rapidity with which it was brought to tragic consummation. One of the nearest to the scene had just passed and spoken to young Boyce and was going in an opposite direction when a shot was heard, turning he beheld a man on the other side of the street apparently a tramp and garbed in soiled overalls, shooting from the curb. The assailant was seen by others to advance to the center of the street working an automatic shot gun as he advanced. Boyce was observed to sink to his knees reel and clutch at the cornice of the Polk street Methodist Church in front of which he fell on the grass, expiring almost instantly.

Sneed when he surrendered was relieved of an automatic shotgun and two automatic Colts revolvers. He was placed in an upper cell, admission being granted to your correspondent, whom he received graciously, declaring that he had no statement whatever to make.

When the warrant charging him with the murder of Boyce was read to him he waived preliminary hearing and the grand jury will reconvene Monday to take action in the case.

Sneed is to stand trial soon for the killing of the elder Boyce in Fort Worth on January 13th of the present year.

His presence in Amarillo so far as might be ascertained tonight was not known to any citizen and his appearance was such as to make him scarcely recognizable to those who knew him best. He was heavily bearded and clothed in overalls but appeared cool and collected.

Young Boyce returned to Amarillo where his widowed mother and two brothers reside, but recently for the first time since the sensational episodes of last year which culminated in his detention in Winnipeg, Canada, and the later killing of his father at the hands of Sneed.

The affair created the wildest excitement, the main thoroughfare of the city being lined with hundreds who rushed to the scene of the targedy.

The walk in front of the church building was spattered with the victim's blood and the sacred edifice itself was stained.

Fully a score of buckshot took effect in the right side of Boyce. His body is being held, pending thefuneral Monday afternoon.

Boyce was thirty-eight years old. Both Boyce and Sneed have hosts of friends here, where they have resided for years in the past and the two families are among the wealthiest of this section of Texas.

By Associated Press.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 14—Al G. Boyce, Jr., was shot and killed here this afternoon about 4 o'clock in the principal street of the city within half a block of the business district.

Following the shooting J. Beal Sneed, wearing a beard of several week's growth and overalls appeared at the county jail and surrendered.

He carried an automatic shot-gun, with which the shooting was done and a pair of automatic pistols.

The few who were near when the shooting occurred say that their attention was directed by the first report and they saw a man who appeared to be a farmer who stod first on the curbstone and then advanced toward the middle of the street, firing three shots in all

Boyce was seen to drop to his knees then to clutch at the cornice of the Polk street Methodist church and to fall directly in front of that edifice, where he expired a few minutes later

Boyce returned only recently to Amarillo on his first visit since the sensational episode following his elopement with Mrs Beal Sneed last fall and the killing of his father by Sneed in Fort Worth on January 13th of the present year.

So far as could be ascertained, the presence of Sneed in the city was known to no one. Neither Sneed nor his friends would make any statement to the press tonight

Sneed was declared to be perfectly cool and non-committal.

Boyce was shot in the right side, thirty buck shot taking effect The man who did the shooting was seen to walk to the street car track in the center of the street after the first shot and o fire twice after that.

The wildest excitement prevailed after the shooting. A crowd of hundreds collected about the prostrate form of Boyce. Boyce's brothers and his aged mother in widow's weeds rushed to the scene and gave an added pathos to the tragedy.

Arrangements for Boyce's funeral had not been perfected tonight Sneed waived preliminary hearing w en the warrant was read and will a action of the grand jury which convenes Monday in regular session

Boyce had only recently returned from Canada to Amarillo. Boyce was armed today, although it appears he did not know of the presence of Sneed in Amarillo.

Sneed had discharged his genteel attire, and was garbed as a laborer at the time of the shooting. The two men when in close proximity at the time.

Few, if any of the intimate friends of the man who did the shooting were able to recognize him under the changed conditions

Boyce had just left a friend when the shooting began At the first shot, this friend turned to see Boyce already on his knees The shooting occurred on the main thoroughfare of Amarillo.

Fear of this tragedy has prevailed for the past several months, and only the supposed absence from Amarillo of Sneed occasioned surprise.

Intense interest prevails in all circles on account of the wide acquaintance of the parties, and the suddenness of the affair

NEW BUILDINGS CITY HALL BLOCK

STRUCTURES NOW CONTEMPLATED WILL MAKE BLOCK ALMOST SOLID

VOSS LETS A CONTRACT

Will Erect Building Adjoining City Hall on the North—Other Structures Planned

New business buildings in the block bounded by Eighth, Ninth, Indiana and Ohio are contemplated which will make that block practically solid with brick structures Work has already been started on the F C Knight three-story building at the corner of Ninth and Indiana and the contract was awarded yesterday afternoon for the Voss building immediately adjoining the city hall.

Other buildings for this block are in contemplation, but no announcements have yet been made These include a (two-story building on Ohio Avenue just north of the Frear-Brin store and some new structures on the Indiana Avenue side the plans for which are as yet indefinite

With the completion of the new postoffice, considerable pedestrian traffic will be diverted to that part of the business section making it much more desirable for mercantile locations.

In spite of the fact that numerous new residences are being erected in various parts of the city, houses are very hard to get as some of the oil men who have come to make their homes here can testify.

OVER INCH OF RAINFALL HERE

WELCOME PRECIPITATION EARLY SATURDAY BROKE A MONTH OF DROUTH AND HEAT

OVER WICHITA VALLEY

Rains Extended as Far South as Abilene and West to Spur—Will Help Wheat Sowing

Rain amounting to one and one-fifth inches fell yesterday between midnight and daylight, being a welcome break in several weeks of uninterrupted hot, dry weather. The local rain was accompanied by a vivid electrical display.

All points on the Wichita Valley south to Abilene and west to Spur were visited by good showers and there were light rains down the line of the Wichita Falls & Southern. Woodward was the only point on the Wichita Falls & Northwestern reporting a rain.

On the Denver, Electra, Henrietta and Bowie reported good showers in the early morning hours. The rain was heavier in Wichita Falls than at any other point in this section The rain comes at a time when it was beginning to be badly needed for cotton and it will also serve to put the ground in good condition for the fall plowing, giving wheat a much better start than it would otherwise have had.

RADFORD TALKED ON FINANCE PLAN

FARMERS UNION PRESIDENT ADDRESSED PUBLIC MEETING AT COURT HOUSE

LOAN PLAN IS EXPLAINED

Speaker Said Its Purpose Was to Enable Farmer to Use Judgment In Marketing Cotton

Disclaiming any effort on the part of the Farmers' Union of Texas to fix an arbitrary price at which members might sell their cotton, Hon. Peter Radford president of the union in Tex as told an audience comprised mostly of farmers at the court house yesterday of plans for financing the cotton crop so that the farmers might get a better price for the product.

He said that the only thing the farmers' union is trying to do today is to fix things so that the cotton raiser can market his crop when he wants to and not be forced to put a surplus into the market on account of his individual financial stress. This the union proposed to do by securing loans from banks on cotton in warehouses at the rate of six per cent per annum. He said the success of the plan was practically assured and that it had met with the endorsement and support of many of the leading bankers and merchants of the state.

In this connection Mr. Radford took occasion to refer to "other plans" and warned his hearers to investigate carefully before they subscribed to any other plan to secure higher prices for cotton. He made specific reference to the Southern States Cotton Corporation scheme, reading extracts from a report of a banquet of leaders in the corporation from the Dallas News. This report quoted one of the speakers at the banquet as saying that the farmers were kept so busy raising the cotton that they had no opportunity of knowing how to market it and that the marketing of the cotton must be taken out of the farmers' hands if it was ever to bring a fair price. Mr. Radford ridiculed this statement in a manner that was much relished by his hearers.

The speaker was introduced by Hon. Tom B. Taylor, a lecturer for the union who lives near this city. Mr. Taylor praised Mr. Radford's work in behalf of the Farmers' Union very highly.

Early in his speech Mr. Radford declared that statistics showed that the farmers were increasing the wealth of the country every year but that the farmer himself was steadily growing poorer in spite of his industry and his economy.

"This means," he said, "that the system of commerce and finance is unjust and discriminating against the farmer."

He said that since the formation of the New York cotton exchange forty-six years ago the control of 87 1-2 per cent of the wealth of the nation had become concentrated in the hands of 4051 men. This had been brought about largely, he charged, by the control of markets by these men.

"Markets can be controlled, regulated and systematized," he said. "In the Southland we are an agricultural people. We are cotton producers. What for? For ourselves? If so we have never been the beneficiaries. We have grown cotton at an actual loss except for the years the Farmers' Union has been in existence."

If cotton were marketed only as the spinners needed it, he asserted there would be no surplus on the market and therefore there could be no gambling. To keep this surplus off the market, he said was the purpose of the present movement. To attain this end the co-operation of all the people was necessary. The most important factor next to the farmer himself was the banker. Without his aid the plan could not succeed.

He then told how he had gone before the Texas Welfare Commission and the bankers of the state and had secured their assistance in getting six per cent money to be loaned on cotton in warehouses for a period of twelve months.

He pointed out that the better prices that would result from withholding distress cotton from the market would benefit all classes of people and that the returns to the banker himself who had made a sacrifice in loaning money at six per cent would amply reward him.

He said that some bankers whose only ideal was the collection of interest on loans were opposed to the plans. He said he pitied the banker who had no larger vision than this.

He repeated time after time that the cotton that goes on the market before it is needed makes gambling and speculation possible.

He spoke more than an hour and a half and was given the closest attention.

Mr. Radford attended a conference of union members at the Farmers Union hall Saturday morning.

OVER $100,000 IN IMPROVEMENTS

WATER AND LIGHT COMPANIES PLAN EXTENSIVE BETTERMENTS IN LOCAL SERVICE

MOSTLY IN EXTENSIONS

Three Lighting Circuits Will be Installed Downtown—New Water Mains also Planned

Over $100,000 is to be expended by the new water and light companies for improvements here within the next few months, it was learned yesterday and the new concern is evidently planning to make extensive betterments in the local service.

No improvements will be necessary at the plant as the old company had just spent $[illegible] for new machinery and for a new reservoir but the new company's work will be on new electric light circuits and on water main extensions. Changes will be made in downtown lighting arrangements so as to give three circuits instead of one, as at present and this it is believed will obviate the periods of darkness which sometimes occur.

New water mains in both the business and residence sections are planned, but the details of this work have not yet been completed.

The company is now moving into the new offices in the old Sherrod Grocery stand on Indiana avenue, where they will have one of the most up to date offices in the city.

Demonstrations of the uses to which electricity may be put for household duties, such as ironing, cooking and the like, are to be given by the company within the next few weeks and definite announcements will be made later.

J. B. SNEED SHOOTS AND KILLS AL BOYCE

Following the shooting, many rumors became current about the length of time Sneed has been in Amarillo but no one seems to be able to give any exact record of his movements.

Boyce has spent the greater part of the time in Amarillo since his return from Canada at the home of his widowed mother and has not been much up on the streets. He constantly reproached himself for not returning to Texas at the time of his father's death, and seemed to be much depressed on account of the trouble growing out of his connection with the Sneed family. He was 28 years old and unmarried.

GREAT THRONGS ATTEND OPENING

FREEAR-BRIN'S FORMAL OPENING YESTERDAY AND LAST NIGHT BRILLIANT SUCCESS

CROWDS FILL BIG STORE

Sidewalks in Block Filled With People Until Late Hour Last Night

When the Freear-Brin Furniture and Undertaking Company announced its formal opening in its handsome new home it naturally expected that the people would respond to its invitation but even so sanguine a man as its manager, M. A. Brin, could not have expected so generous a response as was made yesterday. Hundreds of people visited the store during the afternoon but not until after supper did the big crowd come. Then an immense crowd began to pour into the building covering the three floors in interested, vivacious throngs while hundreds more filled the sidewalks on the outside, the block in which the store is situated being thronged until nearly eleven o'clock last night.

The brilliantly lighted show windows with their artistic displays of handsome and costly furniture were of course the first attraction. These windows as everybody in Wichita Falls knows are simply glass encased rooms built into the front of the store. They are lighted by hundreds of incandescent lamps. In one of these spacious glass rooms was a completely furnished bed room. In the center window was a dining room with wax figures of a man and woman and two children seated at a table set with costly cut glass.

The figures were imported from Germany especially for the opening and the display was lifelike and pleasing. The third window was occupied with a display of chairs and davenports.

The entire first floor of the store is given over to a general display room with the exception of a costly furnished rest room for women at the front with a toilet room adjoining. This floor has ground dimensions of 50 by 150 feet and is finished in a chaste white which formed a pretty setting for the handsome furniture display. At the rear of the room Katz orchestra was stationed during the reception last night and discoursed sweet music. Punch was served and a carnation was given to each lady visitor.

The second floor is given over to sixteen individual rooms in which are displays of complete furnishings for parlors, dining rooms, libraries, bed rooms, halls, bath rooms, nurseries, etc.

On the third floor are the displays of rugs, draperies, mattings, linoleums, etc., and also the undertaking department.

The Freear-Brin Company began business about two years ago in the old Job Barnett stand. They next moved to the Friberg building on Ohio avenue and a short time ago moved into the handsome three story building erected especially for them. The company is capitalized at $30,000 and its stockholders are among the leading business men of the city.

In addition to its retail store the company operates a mattress factory and tomorrow will steam up for a trial run of its own furniture factory. It not only does an extensive retail business as well and is now engaged business but a wholesale business as well and is now engaged in an active mail order campaign.

A Baked Bean Shelf--Have You One?

Phones 432 and 232

I have mentioned this subject frequently and as a result there are now in this part of town a great many baked bean shelves holding from three to a dozen cans of Snider's baked beans ready for instant use. And what's more, I get orders for half a dozen to a dozen cans of these delicious beans every week or so from the same homes to replenish the bean shelf stock. Once tried, no woman wants her bean shelf empty. The quality of Snyder's beans has a great deal to do with the bean shelf habit and for that reason I want you to let us send you a half dozen cans of these really high-class beans.

Opening Play, The Rosary Will Please Discriminating Public

Wichita Theatre goers are delighted with the announcement of Messrs. Marlow and Stone that they will open the season at the Wichita Theatre September 27, with the Rosary.

A good play on the opening night is an augury of a successful season and in the Rosary Wichitans will see a play well worth while. The play presents an opportunity to see a decided answer to the growing unrest and irreligion of our times.

Not that the "Rosary" is a decision merely, it is more. It is a faithful picture of the misery and unhappiness that surely comes upon man who lacks faith in the supreme good and its inevitable triumphs in our world.

A typical American family is taken as a fair example of every day conditions that obtain throughout the United States, the husband a man immersed in business, the exacting business of Wall street and the Stock Exchange.

Little by little he has fallen away from the faith of his Fathers, that faith that has brought our Republic into being, he has replaced it by an agnostic attitude all too prevalent in our day and time. The wife believes her confidence in an all wise, all prevading good has not been shaken; and so when storm and stress comes, the man with no anchor is swept away by the storm of agony; the woman remains steadfast, moored by her faith to outride the tempest.

Through all the heartbreak and tears, through all the agony and anguish, clear and serene, moves the wonderful figure of a modern Catholic priest whose life has been dedicated to God and the service of his fellowman, it is his clear spiritual vision that sees through the web that has been woven about the two people whom he loves and it is his faith and God-given power that sets them free.

It is a wonderful preachment of faith's mighty power, of the saving grace of the good that lies all about us.

The tremendous story, powerful in its simplicity, is interwoven with the higher threads of sane humor, of the sort that one loves to take away from the theatre and muse over in idle moments.

SEVERE STORM AT PENSACOLA

Blow Friday Night Was the Worst Since Memorable Hurricane of 1906

SHIPPING MUCH DAMAGED

Revenue Cutter a Total Wreck and, Many Other Vessels Seriously Damaged

By Associated Press.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 14.—The worst storm experienced in this section since the memorable hurricane of September, 1906, swept the water front tonight doing much damage to shipping.

The revenue cutter Penrose is a total wreck and several other vessels were seriously damaged. The wind attained a velocity of 74 miles an hour before the anemometer at the weather bureau was blown away.

Today the storm apparently had passed inland. Though the water front was strewn with wreckage there was very little damage in the business and residence section Several ocean steamships including the Mexican Lylan line steamer, "Mexorian" were blown ashore Scores of lighters and small crafts were beached and parts of several docks were carried away when vessels were wrenched from moorings.

The Penrose was battered almost to pieces by a drifting lighter, lumber laden No lives are reported lost.

The rain of Friday night was general over this section of the state extending to the south as far as Abilene. Here the fall amounted to one and one fifth of an inch. It was needed badly and will not only revive the grass but be of great benefit to growing crops—particularly that of cotton, which was showing signs of the hot and continued dry weather.

Down in Denton County, according to the Denton Record, the loan agents are complaining of poor business on account of the farmers having money to loan. That's a healthy condition for any county to be in. When there is but little demand for money at the usual high rate of interest it is a sign that the people have plenty and are prosperous. An ad of that kind is worth more than any other a county can put out.

The next legislature will line up as follows on the question of prohibition: Senate—19 pros; 12 antis House 82 pros, 49 antis; 11 doubtful. The lieutenant governor, Will H Mayes, who will preside over the deliberations of the Senate, is also a pro, and that is some better than it was before for the pro side of the question. However, it is to be hoped that there will not be so much wrangling over that question during the next two years, as was the case for the past two years, and there will not be unless the governor takes a notion that he is the whole government.

No matter what may be said of straw voting, it will go on forever, but inasmuch as most of such voting these days favor the Democrats, it kind of increases our faith in the practice.

Heres the result of a vote taken recently by the cashier of a Harrisburg, Va., bank on three passenger trains—one on the Baltimore & Ohio in Virginia and West Virginia; the second on the Pennsylvania between Baltimore and Philadelphia, and the third on the same road between Philadelphia and New York. Of the three trains 41 passengers said they were democrats, 40 were Republicans, and 22 were independent, making a total of 103. Four years ago 32 of the total number voted for Bryan; 70 for Taft. This year 63 of these men are going to vote for Wilson; 16 for Taft and 24 for Roosevelt. Another straw vote taken in a different part of the United States—on a Burlington train between Hallbridge and Hastings, was as follows. Wilson 63, Roosevelt 11; Taft, 7; Debs, 1; not voting 3. Five of the votes were cast by women from Colorado who will be entitled to vote at the Novemmber election, and three of them were for Wilson, one for Roosevelt and one for Taft. Still another straw vote was that taken of the passengers on a train between Lincoln and Freemont, Neb., which gave Wilson 26; Roosevelt 14; Taft 5. From this it appears that the Bull Moose party is drawing its support from the Republican party and that the Democrats are not only holding their own but drawing liberally from the Republicans

The attitude of the Anti Saloon League of Texas, as voiced by Dr. J. H Gambrell, is made known to the people of Texas in the statement reproduced in the Tribune today. The League will look approvingly on the early closing policy of Governor Colquitt, it will even co-operate in that movement, but it does not want anybody to be ignorant of its plans. It is for statewide prohibition in Texas and will renew the effort to secure the adoption of a constitutional amendment at the earliest practicable day. Prohibitionists are warned by Dr Gambrell not to be beguiled by early closing, a quart law and like measures, which Dr Gambrell says are simply "tans on the tail of the whiskey snake." Thus we have fair warning that the Anti-Saloon League, at all events, will never cease war on the saloon system. But can the conservative element in the prohibition camp be induced to join in a no-compromise program, ignoring honest efforts to mitigate the admitted evils of the open saloon? There is reason to believe that there are many prohibitionists in Texas who will be willing to observe the effects of early closing and a quart law before insisting that more drastic measures are justified.—Waco Tribune.

ENDORSES THE TIMES

Inasmuch as the officers have so far failed to locate the man who ran his automobile into a buggy on one of our prominent thoroughfares on the night of the 2nd, bruising and crippling one of our oldest and most respected citizens, those who own machines should join in an effort to have the guilty party apprehended. As The Times understands it, there were no lights on either end of the machine when the accident occurred, though the night was dark, and that after striking the buggy and tearing it to pieces, the occupants of the machine were not decent enough to stop and render assistance to the citizen, who was the victim of their careless and reckless driving. There is a penalty for driving an unlighted machine and the guilty parties in this instance should not be shielded."

Editor Times: The above editorial meets my hearty aproval. As an owner of an automobile I will gladly give $10 for the arrest and conviction of the driver of the car that injured the aged man in question. I think the driver should not only be fined for driving without lights, but should be sued for damages—provided, of course, he is liable for damages. I can hardly believe, however, that the driver of this car was the owner, for I'm personally acquainted with most of the men who own automobiles in this county, and consider them reliable, respectable citizens, who would not injure anyone without at least stopping to render all aid possible. The reckless driver of cars should cease and the owners of cars can easily bring this about as the majority of the owners of cars do their own driving. It will be only a matter of time until every driver of a car must have a license, the issuing of the license depending upon the reputation and sense of the applicant and the sooner the law is enacted and enforced the better it will be for the people generally. A man without brains or principle should not be permitted to drive such a dangerous thing as an automobile. Children, too, should be prohibited from driving cars, for they have not enough judgment to act properly under the impulse. A heavy damage suit in this county will ultimately be filed unless owners of automobiles "get together" and mutually regulate themselves and their drivers.

Yours truly,
DR. J. W. DuVAL.

HASH.

(By W. H. C.)

Darling we are growing old
Grim fate we cannot fool;
Our hair is getting flecked with gray
And our baby's gone to school.

When editors exhaust their pent up rules and regulations for successfully running the universe, the lost opportunities of the boy who smokes cigarettes is a subject on which they can always land with a handful of print paper and four inches of a three-for-a-nickel pencil and produce hand painted copy in great profusion.

Th recent election in Maine seems to have furnished more different varieties of comfort than any thing that has happened since Mother Shipton's prophesy blew up. Teddy smole a smile that showed of his molars and said dee-lighted; Taft received the news as a step toward his political salvation, and Woodrow Wilson has been suffering with comfort ever since it happened. All of which goes to show that difference of opinion is responsible for several things besides horse trading and divorce.

The Texas Grafters Association was in session over at Marlin last week, and Mayor Heffner is authority for the statement that not a single crooked scheme was discussed. They talked about fruit and flowers and how to produce more of them. May their tribe increase.

Dallas leads all cities in new build ever, it is not expected that they will do anything toward moving Fort Worth out of the way for several months yet.

Do you take the advice you give
To the busy hustling mob,
Or is taking your own like being good
An awfully lonesome job.

That the constitution should need an occasional amending should not cause alarm when we remember that the chaps who made it never heard of a telephone, an automobile or an aeroplane; had never taken patent medicine tasted chile con carne or seen a league game. If they were to come back their store of misinformation and virgin ignorance would queer them with the first families until they could get serum treatment for retarded mentality.

The young man who has fastened his mental economy to a craving to wear single barreled spectacles and don a pair of house shoes, a bath robe and wade around in the tyrian springs of knowledge gathering honor by the handful should not overlook the fact that honor is great but it won't buy groceries, and knowledge is not much of an asset unless it is a variety that he can find a market for. For instance a knowledge of the batting average of the big leaguers is way below par.

Uncle Sam should not bother his gray old head about intervention in Mexico. If he will scatter his intervention out among the cow punchers along the Rio Grande the powers will have a chance to see the speed record smashed as the dwellers in tan ale land punch huge oblong holes in the unrivalized atmosphere of the tall uncut.

News From the Oil Fields

Operations on the McBride well on the Chenault tract south of the Schmocker well at Burkburnett have been delayed by a broken shaft, but work will be resumed early this week. This well is now down slightly over a thousand feet, instead of 1200, as reported recently.

Messrs. Wilcox, Shuler and J. S. Alexander have leased about a thousand acres about half way between the Eods and Schmocker wells and are under contract to start drilling within ninety days. The machinery is now being hauled. They leased 320 acres from George Heiserman, 420 acres from W. F. Heiserman and 334 acres from Joe Kiersi, the last tract being in a long strip. The well will be drilled close to where the three tracts corner.

One of the freak wells of the field is one brought in late Friday by the Corsicana company on the old original Palmer tract, on what is now known as the Sheldon survey. The well was brought in at 1900 feet and is in a perfect nest of dry holes. It is directly north of the town of Electra.

The Corsicana is getting ready for a well on the Calloway Dean property about two miles from Mabledean. The survey for the location was made last week and work is to begin shortly.

A new record for shallow wells was made yesterday by W. W. Silk on the Gardner tract south of the Marriott, when a good showing of oil was found at only seventy-five feet. This is not only a record for Electra operations, but some of the oil men here say it is the shallowest on record. The drill will go after the deeper sands, however.

Among the new locations is that of the Worth Oil Company, a Tulsa concern, on the T. W. Roberts property near Fowikes station on the Denver. This company has about a thousand heres under lease there and is now hauling timber for the derrick.

Producers No. 4 on the Bickley tract was drilled in early yesterday, and its production is not yet shown. This was an offset for the 550-barreler brought in several weeks ago on the Bickley.

The report in circulation yesterday that the Corsicana had a flowing well on its No. 2 near the Miller well in Archer county appears to have been exaggerated. This well got a fair showing at 1000 feet the sand being about four feet. It will go deeper. This is on the Harmonson tract about a quarter of a mile north of the Miller.

Two new companies have been organized, with New Mexico charters, to operate in the Electra field. One is composed of Dallas interests while St. Louis parties organized the other.

L. C. Heydrick left a few days ago for Bartlesville, Oklahoma, and will go from there to Terre Haute, Indiana, for a few days. While definite information on the subject is lacking, it is understood that he will not come back by himself. When questioned on the subject before he left, "Bull" said that he would either return alone or with some one.

C. D. Greenlous has made arrangements to complete the Jack Kelly well at Mabledean and will resume work very shortly. This well was stopped at 900 feet.

It is reported that the Nortex Company's well north of the city has been abandoned and that the casing has been pulled. A depth of nearly 2400 feet was reached.

Deeds Filed For Record.

HIS BIRTHDAY FELL ON FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH

Friday was Postmaster Bacon's birthday, just what birthday it was he is not saying, and while to have a birthday on Friday, the 13th, would make some folks uneasy, not so with Mr. Bacon. He says he broke what ever hoodoo there was by inviting five young ladies to take supper with him.

It may be, however, that early in November of this year, events will transpire to convince Mr. Bacon that the hoodoo was on the job and that to have a birthday on Friday, the 13th means bad luck sooner or later.

Mr. Home Builder

You had better stop, look and listen before it is too late to have your new house arranged for one of these Economy Fireplace Furnaces. You can just as easily have your place built to receive one of these wonderful heaters if you will consult us before hand; the heater may be installed at a later date without extra expense of changing flues.

The Economy Fireplace Furnace needs no cellar, no furnace pipes, no register, no stacks, nor stovepipes, operated without climbing of stairs. All heat generated delivered to rooms. No heat wasted passing through pipes. Fire regulated in a moment without trouble. Heats several rooms with same amount of gas that an ordinary stove requires to heat one room. Can be used to advantage in houses that are steam heated for reason that it is ideal for creating mild circulation of heat with little expense on chilly mornings, such as we usually have. It will pay you well to investigate this wonderful heater even though you are not going to buy. We want you to see what your friends are buying as we are having a wonderful sale on this Heater which is not entirely new. It has been tried in your own city. Herewith we present testimonial from one of the several buyers of Furnaces that were tried out in Wichita Falls last winter.

Last winter I bought the first Economy fireplace furnace (for burning natural gas) from the Wichita Hardware Company of course, it being something entirely new we hesitated buying until Mr Scheurer, the proprietor, proposed to set the Economy Fireplace Furnace on trial which he did and it certainly is there yet.

We find this furnace does the same heating service that a house full of stoves will do and at a much less cost. It is neat, clean, economical and attractive. It is the only heater of any kind that we use except in very extreme cold weather. We can cheerfully recommend this Furnace to any one who is looking for a perfect Fireplace Heater.

Signed W. W ROBERTSON

ORDINARY GAS GRATES and GAS LOGS ARE A FARCE

If you fix them to get heat you have to put up with fumes and moisture. If you fix them to avoid fumes you have do with very little heat.

When you figure that you pay from $15.00 to $25.00 for one of these useless ornaments it makes the

Economy Fireplace Furnace

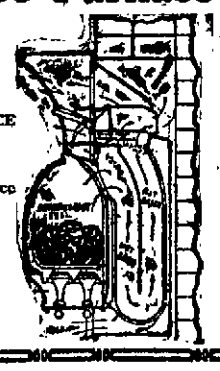
Seem very cheap in comparison.

THE ECONOMY
CIRCULATES HOT AIR LIKE A FURNACE
HAS A LARGE RADIATING SURFACE
PROVIDES A CHEERFUL GRATE FIRE
IS ABSOLUTELY ODORLESS—NO SWEAT
Because of the great amount of radiating surface and air circulation it

Heats 3 to 5 Rooms



We can show you letters from others who praise the Economy. Any one who is using them will recommend them just as highly as did Mr. W. W. Robertson and furthermore, the Wichita Hardware Co. will guarantee that the Economy Fireplace Heater will do all that we claim for them. So when you buy one you are not experimenting at your expense, but you are simply buying the latest and best natural gas room warmer thrt is offered for sale by any one.

DR. H. A. WALLER

DENTIST

Office: Room 207 Kemp & Kell Building. Phone 836.

I take pleasure in announcing to my former friends and patrons that my office is now open on 2nd floor Kemp and Kell building. My new office is equipped with all the latest sanitary dental appliances known to modern dentistry, including two full sets of instruments and an electric sterilizer. This enables me to use sterilized instruments on each patient. It is a well known fact that many contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, pyorrhea, (that deared disease which causes the teeth to become loose and fall out commonly known as scurvey) and many blood diseases can be transmitted from the mouth of one patient to that of another by the dentist.

It affords me great satisfaction to give my patients this safeguard. Soliciting a renewal of your liberal patronage of past years, I beg to remin,

Yours sincerely,
DR. H. A. WALLER.

NEW PLANT FOR PEOPLES' ICE CO.

$100,000 WILL BE EXPENDED FOR NEW ICE MAKING AND COLD STORAGE PLANT

CAPACITY OF 200 TONS

Construction Will Start in 30 Days and Plant Will be in Operation Next Summer

It was announced yesterday that the People's Ice Company will in the near future erect a new ice making and cold storage plant of the most modern construction to cost more than $100,000.00.

The new factory will be situated across the Wichita Valley railroad tracks directly opposite from where the present factory is located and will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible, it being the plans of the Marcus Brothers to have the plant in full operation on or before March 1st, 1913. The old factory will be wrecked and the site cleared as soon as the new factory is complete.

Plans for the new plant are now being drawn by the Robert M. McCandlish Engineering Company of Kansas City, the contract having already been practically let. The McCandlish Company will have the supervision of the construction work in every detail, and the building is planned to be modern and up-to-date in every sense of the word. It is expected that the plant will be in course of construction within the next thirty days, and steps have already been taken to have obstructions removed from the site.

The factory to be constructed will constitute an entirely new undertaking by the People's Ice Company and will be one of the largest and most complete ice making and cold storage plants in Northwest Texas. When completed, it will include among other things, a cold storage room 101 feet in length, a number of loading docks equipped with electric hoists possessing a capacity to load ten cars at a time; four 150 horse power boilers; three big ice making machines, one of 100 tons refrigerating capacity, and the others of 75 and 25 tons; an arrangement to generate its own electricity; a filter plant that will filter and render clear water drawn from wells drilled by the company and a number of other up-to-date features that go with a modern plant of this nature.

The factory will be 126 by 150 feet in dimension and will be constructed entirely fireproof from brick and concrete. Work will begin about the first of October, and the plant will be rushed to completion by the contractors so that it will be ready for next summer's trade.

HAYES DISMISSED FROM THE SERVICE

Charges Against Demoted Police Inspector Sustained at His Trial

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 14—Cornelius G. Hayes, the demoted police inspector recently placed on trial for making alleged false statements reflecting on Police Commissioner Waldo was found guilty of the charges today and dismissed from the department.

The statement by Hayes was that Waldo had enjoined him from raiding disorderly houses without express instructions. At the trial Hayes reiterated the statement and defended his course saying he was carrying out what he understood to be the mayor's policy of "outward order and decency."

MAN DIES FROM PECULIAR CAUSE

Word Whispered to Waxahachie Butcher in Moment of Suspense Results in His Death

By Associated Press.

Waxahachie, Texas, Sept. 14—A word whispered to him in a moment of intense suspense last night killed Andy Ellis, a butcher, aged about forty. Ellis and a deputy sheriff were lying in wait for cowhide thieves at a slaughter pen here. Both were peering through the darkness when the deputy at Ellis' side whispered, "Be quiet, I think I hear him coming." Ellis stiffened and then with hardly a sigh dropped to the ground and died almost instantly. The dead butcher leaves a family.

OAXCA ATTACKED BY 6000 INDIANS

REPULSED BY FEDERALS, INDIANS FALL BACK AND BEGIN SEIGE OF CITY

MANY AMERICANS THERE

Outbreak Feared In City of Mexico Today On Anniversary Mexican Independence

By Associated Press

Mexico City, Sept. 14.—Oaxaca, the capital of the state of that name, is reported by delayed messages to have been attackked yesterday by Xatujepano Indians, estimated to number six thousand.

They fell back from the fire of the federals and are now besieging the town, evidently attempting to starve out the garrison and inhabitants. Oaxaca has an American colony. Mexican rebels are believed to command the Indians.

No news of developments since the beginning of the attack has been received. Col. Aguilar commands the federal forces numbering less than six hundred. They have two machine guns and six field pieces. The rebels are reported to have begun their attack Thursday night by cutting off the city's water supply and electric lights. Two suburban towns were captured and a line of entrenchments extended almost entirely about the city.

The advance began yesterday at noon. The garrison concentrated its defense chiefly in the district known as the American colony and used a battery of guns so effectively that the attackers fell back.

Tense Situation in Mexico City

By Associated Press

Mexico City, Sept. 14.—Despite the precautions taken by the police the situation tonight is tense in view of the celebration tomorrow night of the anniversary of Mexican Independence. Also the Zapatistas who threatened to enter the capital by the 15th are reported to be raiding the mountain district between Morelos and the federal district and the border states of Puebla. It is feared that riots will be started by partisans of the rebels.

Mexicans Face Starvation.

By Associated Press

Washington D. C., Sept. 14.—Major General Leonard Woods today ordered a general army supply post established at El Paso, Texas. Conditions in Mexico are reported to be chaotic.

Starvation this winter threatens to add to the suffering. Farmers have been unable to plant or cultivate any crops. Gen. Woods' action is taken to indicate that officials here believe the revolution will be protracted.

Dikes Laxative Tablets....

Are speedy relief for constipation and since seventy-five per cent of the diseases of the human family are traceable either directly or indirectly to this ailment, this remedy finds favor with all who have used it. Dikes Laxative Tablets are a candy cathartic, mild and pleasant in action do not gripe or nauseate and may be taken without the inconvenience of having your stomach deranged or having to quit work while taking them.

Dikes Laxative Tablets are tonic medication of a slightly purgative nature vastly different in action however from the harsher more drastic purgatives that some times have to be given in extreme cases, but that are not indicated in the average case of constipation.

Dikes Laxative Tablets are ideal for children owing to the pleasant taste children take them readily and with highly satisfactory results.

CHILD FALLS FROM THIRD STORY WINDOW

Lands on Awning Unhurt and Wasn't Even Scared by the Experience

Leon, the three-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Farmer fell out of a window on the third floor of the Marion Hotel Friday evening landing on the awning on the Indiana avenue side of the building practically unhurt.

The boy was sitting on the window sill when he lost his balance and fell. The child's mother was almost prostrated by the shock when she saw him fall and there was much excitement at the hotel until it was found the boy was not hurt nor even scared by the fall.

The Farmer family moved here recently from Dallas and are stopping at the hotel until they can find a house.

ROOSEVELT SHOWING SIGNS OF FATIGUE

Campaigning Too Strenuous Even For Colonel and He Will Rest a Day In San Francisco

By Associated Press.

Reno, Nevada, Sept. 14.—Colonel Roosevelt's appeal to the people of Nevada was made today when he passed through the State on his way to the Pacific coast. His principal address was here.

Since he left Spokane Monday he has been traveling constantly except for a stay of a few hours in Portland and brief stops at a few other points. Through Oregon, Idaho and Nevada he has been traveling as fast as the man at the throttle could speed the train in an effort to keep up with the schedule. When he reaches San Francisco he will have a day's rest before leaving for the Southwest.

His week of hard campaigning has told on him and he showed signs of fatigue although the hoarseness which troubles him at the beginning has disappeared.

Sam Houston's Indian Wife.

(Houston Chronicle)

I notice in your issue of September 11, under a Lawton, Okla., dateline, your correspondent tells a heart-rendering story of the "Indian wife of General Sam Houston," and of her tribesmen, the Kiowas, "leaving her to die of hunger and neglect as it is the custom of the Kiowa and Comanche Indians to treat their old people."

I am not in a position to contradict the statement as to what treatment these Indians mete out to their old people, but I seriously doubt if the United States government would allow any such barbarity as mentioned in the above. I will, however, appreciate your stating from me, a grandson of General Houston, that the part of this story claiming that this woman is his wife is absolutely without foundation.

First—General Houston did not marry a Kiowa, but the daughter of a Cherokee chief.

Second—Her name was not Melissa but Tallihina.

Third—She has been dead many years, as you will see by the enclosed photograph of her grave in the National cemetery at Fort Gibson, showing the stone, upon which can easily be read the inscription, "Mrs. Tallihina Houston."

I feel that, in justice to those who are not here to defend themselves, the truth should be known, and submit the foregoing, knowing that you desire to be fair at all times.

VOLUME VI WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 15th, 1912 NUMBER 107

Complimentary to Mrs. James.

On last Monday afternoon Misses Vera Forgy and Bon Hardy at the home of the latter, 1100 Travis avenue, very pleasantly entertained with a forty-two party in honor of Mrs. H. C. James of Electra, who spent several days in the city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Young. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in every detail. The favor of the afternoon, a fern dish, was awarded to the honoree, she having won the largest number of games. Those present included Mesdames H. C. James, the honoree, J. R. Young, Dan Hardy, J. T. Young, A. S. Fonville, O. A. Jones and Misses Eva Benson, Helen Brightwell, Grace Morse, Hazel Jones, Merle Truly and the members of the Wesley Class at the First M. E. Church, South, who were Misses Aileen Waggoner, Ila Cook, Myrtle Humphries, Murrell Hickman, Tommie Hale, Alta Rauffner, Kathleen Benson, Vera Forgy and Bon Hardy.

House Party This Week.

Beginning next Wednesday a house party composed of Misses Esther Gorsline, Jewel Kemp, Carrie Kell, Vivian Mathis, Mabelle Clopton and Phoebe Bishop will be held for one week in one of the Bean Cottages at Lake Wichita in honor of Miss Phoebe Bishop of Georgetown, who is visiting Miss Esther Gorsline for several weeks. Open house will be held on several occasions and a general good time is anticipated.

Juvenile Birthday Party.

Miss Gladys Allen one day last week entertained her little friends with a party in honor of her sixth birthday, and with them were several of the grown-ups, the affair which took place at 812 Scott avenue, was made most entertaining for those present who included Misses Bettie Sammie and Esther Yarbrough, Misses Ruby, Jewel and Majorie Simmons, Master Rex Simmons, Emily and Robert McCulloch, Martha and Bernice Apple, Jaunita Phelps, Willie Garvery, Lucy Fay Sloan. A number of games were played and after the games, refreshments were served on a table nicely decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgress Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Burgess invited a few of their friends to spend the evening with them last Thursday in honor of their friends and guests, Mrs. H. Dunn and Misses Katherine and Mamie Dunn of Houston. A general good time was enjoyed, and refreshments were served.

Women's Clubs Prepare For Activies.

Although at the present time none of the women's clubs of the city are holding meetings more than once each month, next month will probably see all of them begin work for the winter. Plans and preparations for the winter's work are fast being matured, and it is understood that some of the clubs will undertake to carry out elaborate programs.

A Musical Entertainment

Last Monday night R. W. Cook and wife invited a number of friends and neighbors to a musical feast, held at their home on Burnett street. Miss Catherine Cook, an instructor in the Blind Institute at Austin and a sister of Mr. Cook, with Mr. Willie Pennington, a student at the Institute, rendered various selections both instrumental and vocal, which were very much enjoyed by the guests. Afterwards, some very entertaining music both vocal and instrumental was furnised by Miss Kathleen Stonecipher, a student at Leonox Hall in St. Louis, and Mrs. Harold Carpenter. Refreshments were served and in the opinion of all present, a most profitable time was spent.

Missionary Society Social

The Ladies Missionary Society of the FirstM. E. Church, South, gave another of their monthly dollar socials at the home of Mrs. T. J Waggoner, on Floral Heights, last Monday afternoon. No special program was carried out, although during the afternoon some important business was transacted Luncheon was served on the lawn in picnic style and the affair was both a social and a financial success.

Complimentary to Miss Wilma Filgo

Mrs. Elmer Filgo at her home, 1407 Tenth street, last Wednesday afternoon entertained a number of the friends of Miss Wilma Filgo with a party in honor of her eleventh birthday. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, and a number of games were played An enjoyable time was spent by all present Those present included Misses Maud Brothers, Stella Bachman, Louise Leacham, Agnes Leacham, Mary Lou Thomas, Ruby Avis, Ruth Fitzpatrick, Mabel Morris, Anita Monroe Davis, Sibyl Kell, Louise Krieze, Rose Stampfli, Marion McNickum, Jewel Brown, Beulah Walker, Wilma Filgo, the honoree, and Walter Bachman, Edwin Blair, Jimmy Blair, Julius Thomas, Claud Montgomery, Wells Smith, Earnest Robertson, Clyde Murph, Payton Phillips, Harold Stampfli, Ed Brown and George Filgo.

Cupid Club Dance

One of the last and therefore one of the most enjoyable of the dances given by the young men's Cupid Club of this city was given last Tuesday evening in the Pavilion at Lake Wichita, there being about twenty-five couples in attendance. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Katz Orchestra, and the program called for twelve two steps and waltzes with three or four extras.

The young peole were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Piner Avis, Mr. and Mrs. Strib Moore of Petrolia, Mr and Mrs. Frank Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Patterson, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Jones, Mrs. T. R. T. Orth, and Mrs. M. G. Scoval.

Those present in addition to the chaperones were Misses Annie Carrigan, Edith Mathias, Vivian Mathias, Carrie Kell, Jess Kell, Bertha May Kemp, Jewel Kemp, Evelyn Coffield, Mabelle Clopton, Flossie Murphy, Mary Orth, Gertrude Orth, Marie Jefferies, Eddie Carver, Genevieve Carver, Hazel Gaston, Lillian Avis, and Blanche Kahn; Messrs. Ben Bell, James Griffin, Dr. M. R. Garrison, R. J. Martin, C. W. Hendricks, Sid Staniforth, J. Schrieber, Marvin Smith, Marcie Roberts, John W. Thomas, Lamar Fain, Harry Gaston, W. C. Gibson, Merrill Blair, Jake Avis, A. H. Britain, Carter McGregor, and Jerome Stone.

On Sept. 5th occurred the marriage of Mr. Phillip E. Kerr to Miss Susie A. McInnis at the brides home, Mr. and Mrs. McInnis, 1312 12th street, the rooms being handsomely decorated with potted plants and ferns, green and white being the colors. At 8:30 the Rev. F. McFadden, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, pronounced them man and wife in the presence of relatives of both bride and groom. After the ceremonies the guests were gathered in the dining room where ice cream and cake was served, after which the wedding cake was cut. The first one to cut it being the bride. Good fortune smiled at her for she got the dime. Miss Jessie Kerr finding the ring and thimble. Miss Mary Mariedth in the cut found the button.

After spending the evening until a late hour the guests gave the bride and groom a good shower of rice, numerous handsome presents were presented to them and best wishes for a long and happy life. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will be at home to their friends after October 1st at 1312 13th street.

Mrs. B. E. Leonard previous to her departure for Dallas where she will reside in the future, entertained at an informal at home Mrs. N. O Napier, Mrs. Robert Marlow and daughter, Mrs. Geo. O'Daniel and Mrs Ernest McAbee and daughter.

Fireman's Annual Ball.

Probably the most successful ball given under the auspices of the Fire Department took place last Friday evening from 8 until 12 o'clock when the annual Fireman's Ball was held in the pavilion at Lake Wichita, music for the occasion being furnished by the Katz Orchestra. Several special cars were placed in service to carry to the lake the hundreds of people who were present.

The ball was made the occasion for a masquerade affair, and the disguise worn by many of the couples was complete, so that the spectators were kept guessing in a number of cases until after the time arrived for unmasking when a number of surprises took place. The Katz Orchestra furnished music until near the hour of 12, after which those who remained that late were transported to town on an extra car. Fred Smith and Grover Habern on behalf of the Fire Department collected tickets and R. J. Marin acted as floor manager on behalf of the Katz Orchestra and the Traction Company The proceeds of the affair over and above expenses will go to the Fire Department

Reception For Teachers.

A very enjoyable reception was tendered the teachers in the city public schools Saturday afternoon September 7 from 4 until 6 o'clock by the Mother's Clubs of the city, the affair being held in the auditorium of the High School building and being attended by more than two hundred mothers and teachers, as well as by a large number of students. Some excellent music was furnished by Misses Aileen Waggoner, Gladys and Mary Herron and others, and punch was served by a number of young ladies including Misses Aileen Waggoner, Kathleen and Eva Benson, Dell Adickes, Cora Lee Waggoner and Louise Leacham. A most interesting talk on praising the work accomplished by the Mothers Clubs was made by Prof. Carpenter city superintendent of public schools.

Celebrating Eighth Birthday.

Mrs. R G Smith at her home on Broad street, assisted by Mrs. Fred Gates, surprised her son, Stanley, last Friday afternoon after school with a party in honor of his eighth birthday. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and a general good time enjoyed. Those present included John Sides, Fern Sides, Almond Gates, Perry Ferguson, Willie May Tullis, Mary Blair and others.

Spooners Won Lights go out in CourtHouse Yard

The shades of night were falling hard
Amon' the trees in the courthouse yard
In the dying light of the waning day
A couple sat and I heard him say,
"Oostootsyisoo?"

The Ancient and Amalgamated Society of Spooners has won. The fates, the city council and the county commissioners have conspired against them in vain. There are to be no more lights in the court house yard and that time-hallowed trysting-place shall once more come into its own. There, once again, shall man and maid There, once again, shall man and they have said since Eve was first carved out of Adam's spare-ribs and that they will keep on saying until Gabriel puts one foot on the land and the other on the sea and begins that last cornet solo.

Several years ago the county commissioners, at the behest of local organizations, installed gas lights in the court house yard, it being agreed that the city was to pay for the gas. That put an end to the spooning. You can't hold hands with an unfriendly gas light shedding its beams over you.

But now the city council has declined to pay for the gas and the county commissioners have also declined. So there will be no more lights.

DEMOCRATIC PROSPECTS GOOD SAYS STEPHENS

Congressman From This District Believes Democrats Will Come Into Control of Both Houses

(Vernon Record)

That the Democrats will come into their own and have an opportunity to institute real reforms in the government of this country by winning not only the presidency but hold their own in the House and gain control of the Senate as well, is the opinion of Congressman John H. Stephens of this district, who arrived in Vernon last Sunday from Washington, accompanied by his wife.

When Mr. Stephens was asked concerning the political outlook he smiled and replied: "Oh, Wilson will be the next President, without any doubt. Everything's in our favor."

Continuing he said the Democrats would hold the House and might possibly gain a few members in the lower branch of Congress and pointed out that by holding the states gained in the 1910 elections a Democratic majority in the Senate is insured.

Notwithstanding the long session of Congress just closed and the unusual amount of hard work Mr Stephens is looking well and is apparently enjoying the best of health. He and Mrs. Stephens expect to spend the greater portion of the time between now and the opening of Congress in December in Vernon. Other points in the district may be visited in looking after some official matters.

When questioned relative to intervention in Mexico by this government, Mr. Stephens stated that he was opposed to such a step on the grounds that he did not consider the provocation sufficient and that should the American soldiers be sent to the scene of battle, the moment they crossed the border line, every Mexican, Federal and rebel, would turn his bayonet and gun towards them, forgetting for the time the present conflict, Mr. Stephens is not inclined to engage the United States in a war that could not possible be brought to an end under two years time, and be the direct cause for additional trouble with other South and Central American countries.

Texas mined the greatest amount of coal last year in the history of the industry in this State, nearly 2,000,000 short tons.

ROOSEVELT MAY PASS THROUGH WICHITA FALLS

If He Does Local Bull Moosers Plan to Give Him a Rousing Reception

If Theodore Roosevelt passes through Wichita Falls on his way back to the Northwest after his tour of Texas, local members of the Bull Moose faction will make a determined effort to have the ex-president stop here long enough to deliver an address. The Roosevelt itinerary in Texas has not yet been announced, but it is known that he plans going to the Western States after visiting Texas and it is considered likely that he will pass through Wichita Falls.

Should he do so, Wichita Falls progressives expect to make quite an event of his arrival here and will endeavor to have him deliver a car-platform talk if he cannot be induced to remain longer.

MONUMENT TO CATTLE HORSE

One of the most unique monuments in Lake View cemetery, Seattle, Wash., is a shaft of gray marble erected to a horse. The owner, W. I. Wadleigh, was a cattle man in the Yakima Valley. His horse, "Buck," was his most efficient helper both in "cutting out" a cow or steer and in protecting his master in time of danger. "Buck" could be depended upon to find his way in the worst storm, and more than once he swam the Columbia river and guided his master, who carefully held on to "Buck's" tail. When Mr Wadleigh retired from business and came to Seattle to live, he brought with him this favorite horse and at his death erected the monument with the following inscription:

BUCK,
My Favorite Cattle Horse,
Died Sept. 20, 1894,
Aged 15 Years and 6 Months.

On another face of the shaft is this tribute: "For thirteen years my trusty friend and companion in blackness of night, in storm, sunshine and danger."

On the third side is the motto: "In Adversity Faithful," and on the fourth the single word, "Corraled."

GREATEST JEWISH CITY

About one-tenth of the entire Jewish race in the world today resides in the United States, where they form about two per cent. of the population. More live there now than were in the whole of Palestine. Every fifth person one meets on the streets is a Hebrew. In every country the Jews are among the most orderly elements of the population.

MINE COAL UNDER SEA

What is perhaps the most extraordinary coal mine in the world may be found on a tiny island in the Japan sea, near Nagasaki. This island has just sufficient room upon its surface for the shafts and the hoisting machinery. The workings, which are very extensive, reach out in all directions under the sea.

CHINESE SIGN BOARDS

Chinese storekeepers give poetic names to their places of business. Along the streets of Pekin, the traveler may observe the following: "Store of Heavenesent Luck," "The Store of Celestial Principles," "The Nine Felicities Prolonged," "Mutton Shop of Morning Twilight," "The Ten Virtues All Complete," and "Flowers Rise to the Milky Way." It will be noted that the Chinese may combine the soul of a poet with the pocket of a merchant. The "Honest Pen Store of Li," implies that other pen stores are not honest. A charcoal shop calls itself the "Fountain of Beauty," and a place for the sale of coal indulges in the title of "Heavenly Embroidery." An oil and wine establishment is the "Neighborhood of Chief Beauty" "The Thrice Righteous" one would hardly expect from an opium shop.

IMPORTANCE OF THE PANAMA CANAL

Voyage From Europe to the East via Panama will be cut Down Fifteen Days—Advantage to American Fleets

By Associated Press.

Paris, Sept 14—The passing of the Panama Canal bill into law has given rise to the discussion of the exaggeration of the importance of the Canal itself to the world's shipping One of the leading maritime authorities in France, M. Jose Moselli, says in this connection that the enormous advantages of the new Canal are on consideration greatly diminished They are, he says, not sufficient to bring to Panama the trade enjoyed by Suez, for, while the voyage from Europe to the East via Panama would be some fifteen days shorter, this advantage would be more than counterbalanced by the difficulty of obtaining freight. By the Suez route vessels tap Egypt, India and China where freights are profitable and abundant, while there would not seem to be much to be picked up by the Panama route. On the return ships might make a slight detour to Chile and load nitrate, but at $2 50 per ton this would not appear very attractive

From the passenger point of view the Panama route would only benefit travelers between Europe, the West Coast of the United States and Australia European passengers for Chile would arrive just as quickly by going direct to Buenos Aires and taking the Transandean railroad.

As to the nitrates and saltpeter of Chile—not very profitable freight—it is to be presumed that the sailing ships which carry it now will continue to use the Cape Horn route, not only to avoid the Canal dues, but also because calms are frequent and durable in the gulf of Panama.

There remains the question of coal. Seventy five per cent of existing cargo steamers carry between 5,000 and 8,000 tons Their speed is small and their coal consumption calculated for medium distances. But between Panama and Asia or Australia there is the whole Pacific Ocean to be crossed, fifteen to twenty days' navigation Only very rich freights would permit such an expense.

From all this, concludes M. Moselli it appears that the prime importance of the Canal is strategical, in that it permits the United States fleet to operate indifferently on either shore of the Continent. Thanks to the new Canal, the American fleet will be able to accomplish in two or three weeks a journey which formerly required three months and that without doubt, will hasten the settling of accounts which, sooner or later, must take place between the United States of America and Japan for the hegemony of the Pacific

Officers of the French army reserve have been given by the Minister of War the choice of resigning their membership in certain societies or losing their commissions Alexandre Millerand has just send a circular to reserve officers all over the country pointing out that membership of the so-called military leagues is incompatible with discipline One of the leagues is Masonic and another anti Masonic, and they had their origin in more or less harmless societies for the promotion of comradeship but each of them has acquired an aggressive political character within recent years.

Jail Reckless Drivers.

(Chicago Record Herald)

Three deaths from the operation of automobiles in or near Chicago on Sunday and a long list of the injured from the same cause show that State and municipal efforts at regulation of these vehicles do not stop reckless driving Limitations of speed and requirements of safe operation in the vicinity of street cars appear to be ignored by automobilists who are reckless or indifferent to the safety of pedestrians.

The public on foot, of course, can not be absolved from the duty of carefulness in the streets and roads; there are careless, overventuresome pedestrians and careful, conscientious automobilists But anyone who is observant sees daily evidence of lack of care on the part of drivers of automobiles One driver, for example, as his car passed swiftly along North Clark street last Sunday, kept up an animated conversation with those seated behind him, his head being turned backward oftener than forward Had his car struck a pedestrian or another vehicle while he was thus engaged he might have been technically innocent but morally guilty of criminal carelessness.

Carelessness on the part of automobile drivers is too much in evidence A man or woman guiding a machine so fraught with possibilities of injury and death should be as soberly devoted to the duty of running it as a railroad engineer is to the task of guiding a locomotive. Until there is a greater sense of responsibility on the part of many automobilists accidents will occur, despite efforts to enforce the laws against speeding But these laws should be strictly enforced, and a few jail sentences instead of fines would do much to deter from dangerous practices those drivers whose conduct can be regulated only by fear of punishment.

THE KING AND QUEEN OF ITALY

Royal Couple Now on Their Summer Vacation—Some Interesting Experience

By Associated Press

Rome, Sept 14—The Royal summer vacation has been productive of some most interesting experiences to the King and Queen of Italy, who have this year been more in the public eye than ever owing to the war. They are at present at their magnificent estate of San Rossore, near Pisa, but they frequently go to visit the hospitals to see the wounded soldiers from Africa to review troops and take part in other functions on which the heart of the nation is now concentrated

The Royal yacht "Yela" is in constant demand and the King and the Queen generally take their small family of four along, as they are an excellent sailors and enjoy the change Besides the Princess Yolanda, who is devoting herself principally to sea views, or views in which the sea enters.

The privacy with which the King always moves gives rise to many piquant and amusing incidents. Strange as it may seem for a ruler who goes about in his own Kingdom as much as Victor Emanuel III does he is not known to many officials

The Yela put into Spezia the other day and was at once boarded by the harbor master, who, walking up to the Princess Yolanda, who was about to take a snapshot of him, exclaimed, "It is against the rules, you cannot take photographs; you had better give me the machine." The Princess too young to stand on her dignity, burst into tears, but gave up the camera, when the King appeared on deck. Even then the official did not know with whom he had to do, and was about to speak, when one of the officers came forward and said: "His Majesty" The man nearly died of embarrassment, relieved by a laugh from the Queen, who proposed that he should give Princess Yolanda back her camera and that he should stand up and have his photograph taken The Princess later sent him a copy which did credit to her powers.

On another occasion the King was not allowed to land until after the usual inspection, and as under such circumstances he never reveals himself and never insists, it was some time before the official knew that he had been refusing free passage to his Sovereign.

Heigh ho! Wichita!
You're the best.
Fine old town without a flaw,
You lead the rest.
When there's anything to do,
Then we always count on you;
Well we know you'll pull us through
You've stood the test.

I'm a stranger from afar,
Yes sir ee!
But you needn't tell me what you are
For I can see.
I'll join the boosters, sure I will,
And sink or swim or good or ill,
Just praising Wichita to kill.
I'll ever be.

So put me down upon your list
And mark it strong;
For I'll be with you, tooth and fist,
Sure I'll belong
I'll merrily sing of Wichita,
And whip the man that finds a flaw;
Best old town I ever saw,
Aye, that's my song.

I'll stay right here, nor budge an inch
And make my name.
You'll get my money, that's a cinch,
But who's to blame?
I'll spread bouquets along the street
And swear the town just can't be beat;
I'll smile at every man I meet,
Oh, I'll be game.

A FOUR STATE EXCHANGE

FRUIT AND PRODUCE GROWERS OF TEXAS, ARKANSAS AND OKLAHOMA WILL MEET IN DALLAS

OCTOBER 19TH THE DATE

Co-Operation of all Shippers and Growers' Associations Is Invited

On account of the melon growing industry at Burkburnett and the truck growing here in the irrigated district, there ought to be much interest here in a movement now on foot for the formation of a great market exchange for the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas.

A meeting has been called at Dallas on October 19th to discuss the formation of such an exchange and this county will probably be represented

The following concerning the proposed movement has been sent The Times for publication

The man or woman living in the middle northern or eastern part of the United States when he goes to market from January to June to buy vegetables and fruits for his table hardly ever gives a passing thought to the section of the country from which these food products come or of the people who spend the winter months delving in the soil, planting, and tending the vast acres from which the early vegetables and fruits to feed the nation are produced All that the consumer realizes is that the price is high and the days are few and far between when there is a plentiful assortment to choose from If he gets any idea about the producer it is that he is some sort of a high way robber who makes the poor consumer of the North pay double prices He does not realize the magnitude of the fruit and truck growing industry of the Southwest from which he gets his supplies he does not know that many growers labor all winter spend their time and money for months and then in many cases get no pay when the shipping season comes on If a consumer were told this fact he would growl back that it was no fault of his Goodness knows, I pay enough he says And he does The U S Department of Agriculture has figured it out that for ordinary farm crops the consumer pays one dollar where the producer receives only 40 cents The balance is expense and loss under our outrageous marketing system in getting the productions of the farm from the farm to the home of the consumer The fellow who has it in' for corporations in general and the railroads in particular will say that the railroads get it But this is not true The railroads and the refrigerator car companies get about 25 per cent of it the balance is divided between dealers' profits and loss occasioned by a bad system of marketing As a matter of fact on perishable products which have to be rushed to the markets or the cold storage houses as soon as they come from the fields and orchards do not begin to pay the producer 40 cents for every dollars worth the consumer buys On the gross amount he produces a large part of which is lost through a lack of system in putting it into the hands of the consumer distributing it to the multitude of markets in proportion to their ability to consume it the growers do not on the average get one half of forty six cents out of every dollars worth produced

As an example of this some Texas onion growers could give their experiences this year One grower at Ashterton sent four car of white Bermudas to the market and actually had to pay out of his pocket $800 in order to give them away! Yet at the very time the consumers buying in small quantities were paying for these same onions five cents a pound or twelve hundred dollars per car! One of the biggest onion growers in Texas, summing up his profits on sixty two cars found that it did not amount to enough to pay the hands for gathering and storing the sorghum used to feed the stock on his farm In one day at Houston forty carloads of watermelons were sold by the railroad companies and did not bring enough money to pay the freight yet there were hundreds of thousands of people in these United States who would have been glad of the opportunity of buying these melons at a good price Peaches fine Elbertas have on the same day sold at twenty five cents per crate in one market and at eighty five cents in another not a hundred miles distant Such instances could be enumerated every season by the hundreds

The business man if his attention were called to this condition would remark that the reason was there was not enough business or money in the business to pay the expense of maintaining a shipping organization sufficiently extensive to intelligently distribute these fruit and truck products Perhaps not yet during the season just ended the four states of Texas Oklahoma Arkansas and Louisiana shipped approximately 39 400 solid carloads of these food products consisting of 2 000 cars of strawberries 12 000 cars of peaches 7 000 cars of watermelons 100 cars of cantaloupes 30 cars of beans 60 cars of cucumbers 100 cars of lettuce 2 000 cars of tomatoes 6 000 cars of white potatoes 1 000 cars of sweet potatoes 900 cars of cabbage and 60 cars of Bermuda onions A good many of these cars were mixed cars but even lettuce was shipped from the Brownsville country in solid carlots Besides these solid cars were millions of packages that went by express together with small shipments of pears plums figs oranges blackberries grapes radishes okra peas and celery So it is a big business after all, and if the crop could be sold for half what the consumers pay for it the value would be $18 000 000 to $20 000 000 The opportunity enjoyed by the farmers of the Southwest to grow fruits and early vegetables for the Northern markets in addition to grain and cotton presents a vast channel of wealth if properly utilized The present output large as it seems in the aggregate could be consumed by the purchasing power of the American people in a week if it were possible to so distribute these perishable products that each market town or city would only receive that which it could consume in four or five days without deterioration

To distribute the Southwest's output is the most important marketing question of the day not only to the people of that section but to consumers everywhere There are a few associations and exchanges in several sections composed of growers in limited areas that have made considerable success in distributing and marketing their products but they have never been wholly successful even for a season One of the principal reasons for the failure of associations aside from the limited area in which they operate and their inability to have an extensive selling machinery is the fact that each year there are a number of new growers in the market from sections of the country that have not been before known to produce them These new growers having no knowledge of markets reliable dealers prices measure of consumption or other information consign their products to the larger cities and in many instances to commission merchants or persons who pose as such about whom they know nothing either as regards their integrity or ability These growers have no way in which to make provision for reconsigning shipments in cases of overloaded markets the consequence of which is congested markets in one section and unsupplied ones in another This causes unprofitable prices in the one and a restricted consumption in the other to the detriment of producers and consumers alike An other feature which is cause for the unsuccess of shipping associations is that unscrupulous commission men who receive consignments from growers not members of shipping associations use consignments to beat down and destroy the prices of the associations and cause the business of the legitimate dealers to be a losing one

An attempt will be made at Dallas Texas on October 19 to bring all of the growers and shipping associations of the states of Texas Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma into one great exchange which can command business enough to warrant an extensive selling plan that will cover all of the markets from Denver to the Atlantic coast Col F P Holland of Dallas, Texas is author of the plan and he will be assisted by some of the leading bankers and railroad men of Texas including Col B F Yoakum, chairman of the board of the Frisco railway and Jos Hirsch chairman of the agricultural committee of the Texas Bankers association who recognize the fact that vast revenues of the farmers of Texas and contiguous states are going to waste and a magnificent opportunity to make the production of truck and fruit of enormous value is being neglected The biggest men in the business will come to Dallas to the meeting that Col Holland has called for October 19 during the State Fair men who count their orchard and truck land by the thousand acres will aid in organizing a great exchange with the money and brains behind it to cope with the big problem of handling a twenty million dollars a year crop The new organization will add millions to the exchequers of the growers, save other millions to consumers, all of which great sum is now wantonly wasted Another benefit to consumers will be in enabling them to buy more and better fruits and early produce instead of "eating out of cans" the whole winter

THREE MILLIONS AS DAMAGES

The Thirty two Railroads Operating in Texas pay Nearly that Amount As Personal Damages

Austin, Texas, Sept. 14—According to a compilation just completed ing to a compilation just completed 32 of the leading Texas railroads, comprising about 90 per cent of the total mileage in Texas, the fiscal year that ended June 30 last was a banner year for the damage suit industry in this state.

These 32 roads report a payment of $2 923,944 20 in settlement of personal injury cases for the fiscal year just ended For the year that ended June 30 1911 the same roads paid out $2,503,829 55 in settlement of personal injury cases The increase, therefore for the year ending June 30 last over the preceeding fiscal year was $420,114 65.

This is a contribution of about 75 cents from every man, woman and child in Texas toward this industry, for the railroads in the very order of things and under existing laws must charge these payments to operating expenses and rates must be made accordingly

This enormous sum would have been sufficient to have operated on the same basis it cost the state for the fiscal year ending August 31 last the various state departments as follows

Executive office for over sixty five years

Department of Secretary of State for over one hundred and sixty two years

Department of Insurance and Banking for over twenty six years.

State Board of Health for over forty-five years.

State Live Stock Sanitary Commission for over eighty-five years

Attorney General's Department for over seventy years.

Department of Education for over one hundred and fifteen years

Railroad Commission for over eighty-one years.

University of Texas for nearly eleven years

Agricultural and Mechanical College for nearly eight years

State Experimental stations for over fifty-six years

All the higher courts for nearly eighteen years

The Confederate Home for over thirty-one years

All the state asylums for the insane for nearly three and one-half years

It would have paid the pensions and maintained the Confederate pension bureau for over five and half years

It would have sustained every part and parcel of the prese ernment for a period of full months.

To collect the sum pa 32 railroads for the fis ended June 30 last in personal injury cases the railroads had to ha bales of cotton weighin each from a distance the point taking the m on cotton to shipside. on a bulk rate of 41 c pounds net to railroads.

How much of this va to those injured and ho to lawyers, payment of witness fees and doctor tifying is a matter th even remotely conjecture

It is the largest sum in settlement of personal during a single year by of this state These 32 the last fiscal year pai tlement of personal injur 040 more than was pai railroads of Texas for t that ended June 30, 19 cludes all roads.

Every cent of this h collected by the railroa ducers and shippers of
